ABOUT IFC

IFC—a member of the World Bank Group—is the largest global development institution focused on the private sector in emerging markets. We work in more than 100 countries, using our capital, expertise, and influence to create markets and opportunities in developing countries. In fiscal year 2022, IFC committed a record $32.8 billion to private companies and financial institutions in developing countries, leveraging the power of the private sector to end extreme poverty and boost shared prosperity as economies grapple with the impacts of global compounding crises.

IFC's work focuses on tech-driven business models in high-impact sectors, including Fintech, Health Tech, Agtech, Climate Tech, EdTech, Supply Chains, e-Logistics and Mobility. In addition to investments, IFC TechEmerge connects global tech innovators with leading organizations in emerging markets to pilot and scale new solutions in healthcare, sustainable cooling, and climate resilience.

With one of the largest footprints in emerging markets, IFC is uniquely positioned to help tech startups scale by offering growth and expansion capital, sector knowledge and understanding of local markets, as well as connections to a global network of clients and partners. In addition to providing capital and expertise, IFC works with the World Bank to create favorable conditions for private sector growth and technology adoption by helping improve regulations and encouraging regulatory sandboxes and tax incentives that promote innovation and entrepreneurship.
